

Our client, The Institute of Incorporated Public Accountants, is recognised as one of Ireland's five professional accountancy bodies. IIPA are the first accountancy body to be approved for Auditing purposes by the Minister for Trade and Commerce. To take account of recent developments in relation to accounting and auditing at national and international levels, the Institute is developing and expanding its activities.

Chief Executive Officer

Reporting to the President, you will be responsible for managing the activities of the Institute under the general direction of the Council, interacting with various statutory and non-statutory authorities and helping to develop an identity for the Institute to the highest international standards.

The successful candidate will lead organisational change and play a key role in the strategic development of the institute. You must be a strong communicator with team working and networking skills and have an ability to ensure the effective management of key relationships. You will be an independent thinker with excellent operational management skills and a proven track record of achievement in your career to date. An attractive remuneration package will apply. The head office will be located in Co. Kildare.

Please contact Susan Cox,
coxfitzsimons & wilkes
Adelaide Chambers, Peter Street, Dublin 8
Tel: 01 449 3223
Email: susancox@cfw.ie

www.cfw.ie

coxfitzsimons
& wilkes
FINANCIAL RECRUITMENT SPECIALISTS

INSTITUTE OF INCORPORATED
PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

Our client, The Institute of Incorporated Public Accountants, is recognised as one of Ireland's five professional accountancy bodies. IIPA are the first accountancy body to be approved for Auditing purposes by the Minister for Trade and Commerce. To take account of recent developments in relation to accounting and auditing at national and international levels, the Institute is developing and expanding its activities.

Chief Executive Officer

Reporting to the President, you will be responsible for managing the activities of the Institute under the general direction of the Council, interacting with various statutory and non-statutory authorities and helping to develop an identity for the Institute to the highest international standards.

The successful candidate will lead organisational change and play a key role in the strategic development of the institute. You must be a strong communicator with team working and networking skills and have an ability to ensure the effective management of key relationships. You will be an independent thinker with excellent operational management skills and a proven track record of achievement in your career to date. An attractive remuneration package will apply. The head office will be located in Co. Kildare.

Please contact Susan Cox,
coxfitzsimons & wilkes
Adelaide Chambers, Peter Street, Dublin 8
Tel: 01 449 3223
Email: susancox@cfw.ie

www.cfw.ie

coxfitzsimons
&wilkes
FINANCIAL RECRUITMENT SPECIALISTS

